Arrests raise questions of safety

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Freeway rest areas.

On weekends and holidays, they're crowded with families on the go. Some are stopping to take a short break from driving, some to look at the lighted map and area located in Canton Township to 31 in the last month.

Names of the seven are being withheld until warrants are finalized, but, contrary to some reports, none of the seven are currently working in any school system. However, Associated Newspapers has learned that one is a with quite a few professionals among them.

Trooper Jones of the state police says that "it isn't right that a kid can innocently walk into a bathroom and be confronted with what we (when working undercover) are."

Lt. John Shewell, also of the state police, said that the I-275 rest area "is probably the worst in the state, or at least things are most blatant there."

Last Thursday, one day after the alleged activity had been reported, three local television stations sent camera crews out to the site. Two arrests were made while filming was going on.

"It was ridiculous," said Jones. "One guy asked me what all the lights and cameras were doing, and I told him there had been a murder. He said 'Oh,' and took me to his car, where he was arrested."

"Another one of the really bad rest areas around is on I-94 near Belleville," said Shewell. Rogers backed this up, saying that "just a few days ago I received a written complaint from a man who was approached there."

At a loss as to why most people seemed unaware of the problem rest stops are now mired in, Rogers said that "hopefully, with all of the publicity, people will be more careful before there is a tragedy of some kind."

"Another thing to keep in mind," said one of the state troopers, "is that this place (I-275 rest area) is right next to the bicycle path where there have been seven attempted rapes in the past six months. Not that it's related, just that it's nearby."

According to Shewell, officers do not have the time to keep a constant undercover operation going at the rest areas.

"We have better things to do. No one here enjoys this. But, we do our best to answer the complaints and clean up the place," he said.

retired superintendent of a nearby school district and another is a retired teacher, reportedly from Wixom.

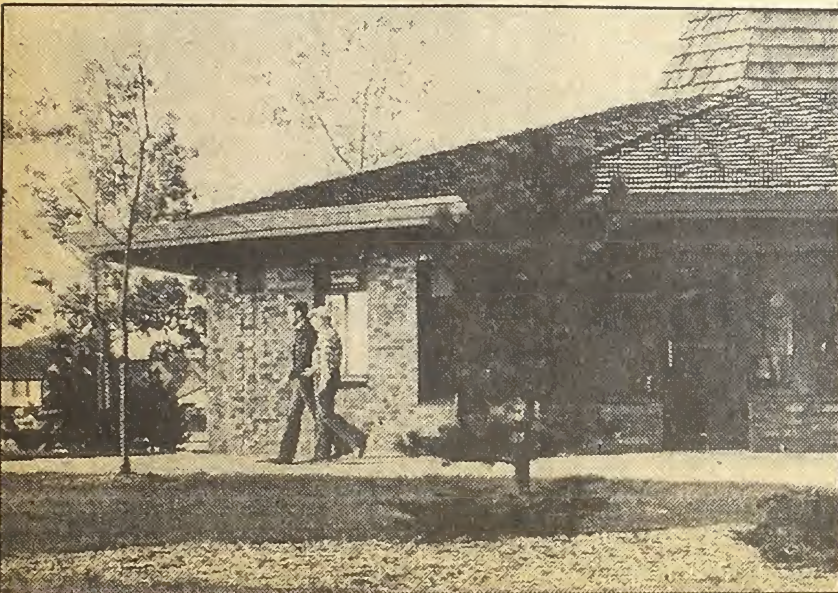

Are rest areas safe then, for the traveler?

The answer is yes, according to Mike Rogers, Forester in charge of the Metropolitan District. But he qualifies the response.

"We haven't had any assaults or anything like that — which is a godsend — most of the time the men don't seem to bother people," says Rogers.

"But, he says, 'unfortunately this problem is not limited to any one area, it happens all across the state. Somehow, freeway rest areas have become unofficial gathering areas for homosexuals.'"

According to both the Forester Department and state police, many of the men are well-to-do, others to make use of the facilities.

But, on weekdays (and nights) some become sites, according to Michigan State Police, for illegal homosexual activity.

"Usually, about 4 p.m., the parking places start to fill up with the businessmen," said trooper Al Jones. "They sit in their cars, walk up to other cars, meet at the telephone or in the men's room, and solicit sexual favors from one another."

Sometimes, those that are solicited turn out to be undercover police, and the crackdown is underway. Such was the case last Thursday, as plainclothed state troopers arrested seven more men for alleged obscene and indecent behavior in a public place and disorderly conduct. This brought the total arrested at the I-275 and Cherry Hill rest

Suprise!

When John Lewkowicz arrived at work one day late last week, he was greeted by his office workers waiting to yell "surprise!" as he came through the door. Surprised or not (he won't say), Lewkowicz and crew each had a healthy piece of celebration cake to mark his being the first treasurer in Romulus to make $1,000,000 for the city in a one-year period.

Brother charged with murder in death of sister, nephew

A young Romulus born-and-bred woman and her four-year-old son were brutally murdered Friday morning in their Taylor home. The woman's brother, Charles Towe, 32, has been charged with one count each of first and second degree murder.

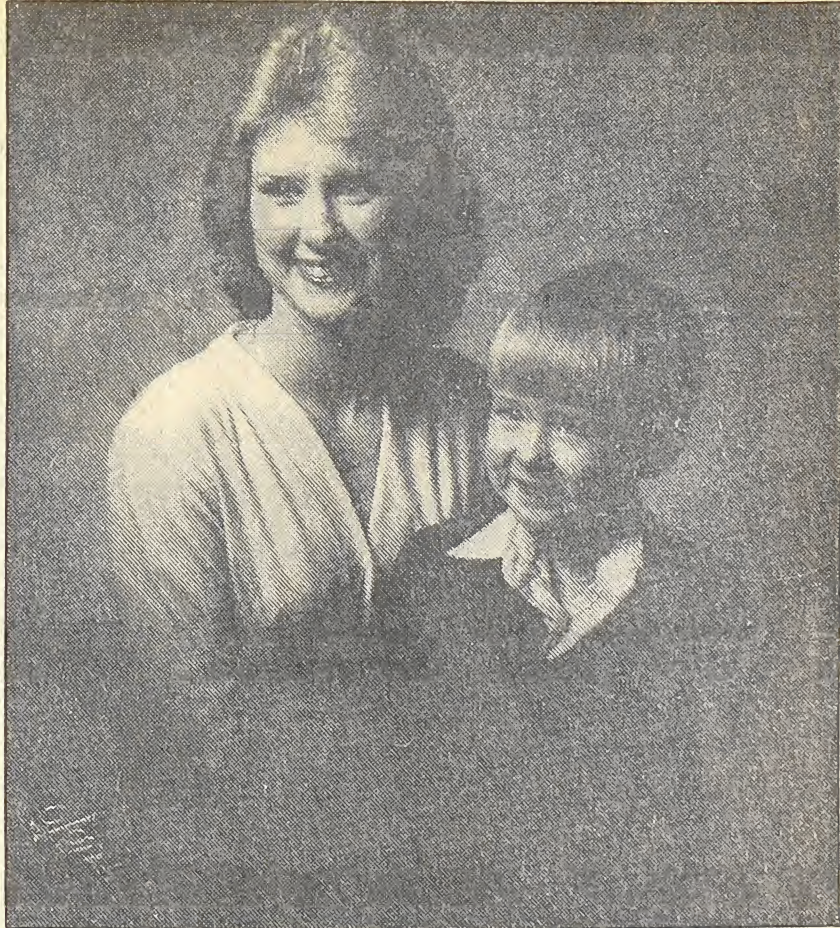

Cora "Corey" Towe was fatally stabbed in the chest while apparently attempting to go to the aid of her young son, Donald "D.J." Ogden, who had, according to Taylor police, been suffocated by Charles for "waking him up" at 11 a.m. Police said there was no evidence of drugs or alcohol, and "the whole thing seems senseless," according to Det. Lt. Tom Bonner.

Corey Towe was the girlfriend and constant companion of 2½ years of Romulus Detective David Early, who says they had talked a lot about getting married. "She moved out of Romulus about two years ago, and was going to be moving back soon," said Early. "She was currently enrolled in adult education at Romulus High School."

According to Early, the man charged with the murders had not shown that type of behavior before. "He came into the station the day before to say hello. It's crazy.

"Above all," says Early, "Corey was a devoted and loving mother. D.J. was her life ... and when she knew he was in trouble, she was in there trying to help, and I guess that's what happened."

According to Early, a member

of the police motorcycle club The Blue Knights, "Corey would go to the meetings and on trips with me, and the club just took her in, sort of like a mascot," he recalled. The Blue Knights also served as a police honor guard at the Tuesday funeral.

Taylor police said they were called by Corey's other brother, Howard, who also lived in the home — which is near Inkster and Eureka — after he was awakened by the disturbances. By the time he got there, the damage had been done. He telephoned the Taylor Police Department and reported the murders.

Police said Charles Towe did not resist arrest. "He kept saying he did it because the boy was bothering him. It's a real tragedy," said Bonner.

Romulus readies for birthday

As George Orwell's 1984 draws to a close, residents in Romulus are eagerly awaiting the new year. Not that they have anything against Orwell, but it seems that 1985 will mark the 150th birthday of Romulus.

The first sign of government in what was then Romulus Township happened on Monday, April 6, 1835, when a legislative body formed and held a meeting in the home of Joseph Pullen. For many years, these board meetings were held in the dwellings of various members.

The township of Romulus was actually formed from the larger township of Huron (not unlike Adam's rib), as were Sumpter and Van Buren.

Two years after Romulus became a township, Michigan became the 36th State of the Union.

The first school district in Romulus came about in May,

1839, when at a meeting it was motioned that "we select a site for a school house."

A motion was then made to obtain the site on the far end of David J. Pullen's land, which was available. They also voted to build a school house that same summer, one that would stand 22 feet by 26 feet. The board then voted to raise the whopping sum of $200 "for the purpose of building a school house."

Roar of victory

It may not be located at Michigan and Trumbull, but Tiger Fever made its way to the steps of Romulus City Hall in the form of a sculptured bengal, courtesy of Charles Sabadash, who loaned the ferocious looking beast to the community. Shown taming the tiger into a pussycat is city hall employee Teresa McKeith, adding the beauty to the beast.

Youth Corps cleans up

For the second straight year, Romulus and Huron Township school districts participated in the county-operated Summer Youth Employment Program.

Romulus had 110 participants, while Huron had 32 young men and women flexing their work muscles for the nine-week activity.

This is not to be confused with the state-funded Michigan Youth Corp., which Gov. James Blanchard organized last year. That corp drew 30 young workers from Romulus and 24 from Huron Township. They worked within their own cities or townships.

Both programs had the men and women working 32 hours a week for eight to nine weeks. They were paid $3.35 per hour.

Some of the work they did included:

— EXTERIOR PAINTING — Romulus Board of Education fence and parking lot.

— EXCAVATING — (1) Installed drains at Board Office, Junior High Carl Morris' Field, and Merriman School; (2) Extended parking area at High School; and (3) Removed light poles from Munier High, Wick, Halecreek and Barth Schools.

— MISCELLANEOUS — (1) Cleaning and minor service to all air conditioning units in the district; (2) Moving of furniture and other miscellaneous items in the district.

Fast-food murder: 'who dun it' is unsolved

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Managing Editor

Richard Lee Kincer was, if not on top of the world, then at least headed in the right direction.

Although recently divorced from Bonita, his wife of 20 years, he had kept the lines of communication open. They were falling in love again and even talked about exchanging nuptial vows along with their daughter, Janice, who was engaged to be married in a few months.

Kincer was living with his teen-aged son, David, in Belleville and the two were developing a close friendship that went beyond a father-son relationship. Dad had worked countless hours at various jobs and sometimes there didn't seem to be enough hours in a day for pursuing paternal interests. But now they were learning to value and enjoy their time together.

Even his career was back on course. Kincer, 41, had returned "home" a month earlier as manager of the Burger King Restaurant on Michigan Avenue in Wayne, the very same establishment he had opened in the late 1960s and served as its first manager. Since that time he had owned three Dairy Queen outlets with a friend in the Flint area; worked as area supervisor for a restaurant chain; helped coordinate the development of the Four Seasons dining concept in Plymouth, and attended computer school.

After being unemployed for a time, it felt good to be back in a supervisory capacity at a familiar site. Thoughts of owning a business could wait for awhile.

Friday, Dec. 23, 1983 typified the type of day that leaves Michiganders with dreams of migration. The bone-chilling cold and overcast skies provided tell-tale signs of winter's gloom.

Unable to start her car in the sub-zero temperatures, Bonita contacted her former husband that morning for a ride to the grocery store where she worked as a cashier. Kincer was scheduled to report to the Burger King later that day and close the store, as he normally did, in the wee hours of the morning. On Christmas Eve he would join his family for their traditional exchanging of gifts, his favorite day of the year.

The restaurant was nearly deserted at 8:50 p.m. that Friday. Only a few Christmas shoppers stopped by on their way home.

Then two young black men entered, one armed with a small caliber revolver (a "Saturday Night Special") and the other carrying a brown grocery bag. According to police the armed bandit jumped over the counter and grabbed Kincer as he stood behind the cash register.

The robber fired a shot into the drive-thru window and stuck the gun into Kincer's side, demanding that the manager open the office safe. When Kincer hesitated, claiming he did not know the safe's combination, the bandit shot him. As a small crew of horrified employees looked on helplessly both men ran out of the restaurant and escaped into the dark of the frigid night.

"I hurt bad, please help me," Kincer whispered as he slipped in and out of consciousness. The bullet had pierced his liver and damaged the diaphragm, stomach, aorta and lung.

Kincer was transported to Wayne County General Hospital. He died at 10:57 p.m. with his son at his side — the first Burger King employee to be murdered in 30 years in the Parents work on Halecreek playground

Last Saturday, a group of Romulus parents got together to make some additions to the playground at Halecreek School and, despite the chill in the crisp fall air, proceeded to install tether ball poles and truck tires.

It took nearly four hours for Gordon Spencer, John Coleman, Dave Bennett, Halecreek principal Art McPharlin and city employee

Matt McGrane to get everything safely into place.

Also on hand, lending "moral support and milk and cookies" were Cindy Bennett and Lorraine Wilkerson. According to Wilkerson, there will be ongoing improvements in the playground area.

Romulus Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell said he appreciated the effort, stating that "this is a perfect example of a community project that will, with the assistance of the board of education, make our schools a better, safer place to be."

The Halecreek Parents Teachers Guild (PTG), along with the school board are in the process of purchasing a basic nine-piece physical fitness course, which will enhance student coordination, balance, agility and muscle control for students and other area children.

In appreciation

What better way to spend a Saturday afternoon than shoveling dirt and straining back muscles? For these dedicated parents, there was none. The work gloves went on, and the tires and tether ball posts went in. Pictured are (from left) Cindy Bennett, Bracken Spencer, Gordon Spencer, Art McPharlin, Lorraine Wilkerson, Matt McGrane and John Coleman.

Cost is $28.50, minus $5 for Huron Township seniors, which is paid for by the township.

For more information contact Mary Butz at 941-0379.

New code

The Romulus Community Schools Board of Education has been working for seven months to develop a new Student Code of Conduct. A procedure for developing the new policy culminated with a public hearing.

The new policy is broad in scope and includes a detailed and tougher substance abuse policy.

School Board Trustee Sandra F. Langley chaired the board committee that has worked with teachers, community groups, and administrators to develop the new policies.

Other members of the committee were Board of Education Trustees Mary M. King, Pat Patterson and citizen Richard F. Campbell.

Top honor

Chamber members along with community clubs and organizations and residents are invited to assist the Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce in seeking the 1985 Romulus Person of the Year.

A committee has been selected to follow up on all nominations. Judging will be based on the individual nominee's overall contributions to the community along with services they performed in an outstanding and unselfish way.

The Chamber and committee would like to encourage everyone to participate, so take a few moments of your time and stop by the Chamber Office, located at 35350 Goddard, or call at 941-5710 to obtain a nomination form.

All forms must be received in the Chamber Office no later than Dec. 1.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

By Dr. Thomas Anderson

BETTER SLEEP BETTER BACK

Do you wake up with back pain, stiff neck, tingling arms? Your chiropractor can prescribe a specific back-supporting sleep-comforting mattress for your spinal needs. It should be free of ridges or valleys, with no depression in the middle that affects your turning. These are ache and pain causers that cause hurtful sleep.

A chiropractic examination determines which of your body parts needs special support. A mattress should support your body at all points for a minimum of side bending or twisting of your spine.

Ask about sleeping posture, and proper pillows to support head and shoulders. Your neuro-muscular network needs to be tested, and any subluxation (spinal misalignment) carefully considered. Your chiropractor relieves spinal congestion with gentle adjustments.

Fast food murder:

Michigan region, a five-state area also including Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Kentucky, and approximately 400 outlets.

Nearly 10 months later, Kincer's murder remains the only unsolved homicide in the history of the City of Wayne.

"I guess you'd call it a head over heels romance," recalled Mrs. Kincer recently. "I went to high school with his (Kincer's) sister. . . she introduced us. We were engaged for nine months and married March 23, 1963."

Relaxing in the Westland apartment she shares with son, David, Mrs. Kincer breaks into tears often when discussing her husband. It's a subject she talks about constantly with daughter, Janice (Sturgill) of Belleville, now 20, married and expecting a child next April.

"Richard wanted to be his own boss, he was a leader," described Mrs. Kincer. "He was a workaholic but he was always in a good mood. He'd get off work at 3 a.m. and get up at 6 to put the coffee on for breakfast. He had boundless energy. . . I remember that he never missed a day of school in junior high or high school."

Janice agreed, "Yeah, dad reminded me of those ducks in a game you see at a carnival, the ones that go back and forth. He never sat still. He was energetic and liked to do things."

Mom and daughter enjoy reminiscing about the good times, and the easy going man they loved so deeply.

"Dad always worried about everyone first," Janice explained. "He had holes in his shoes but he gave me money to get a new pair of jeans for my first date. He said he wanted me to look nice.

'He had holes in his shoes but he gave me money to get a new pair of jeans for my first date.'

"That was like dad, he always let you know how he felt," she continued. "He always said 'I love you.'"

"And he was a kidder, joking around all the time. He loved to talk to wrong numbers (on the telephone)," she laughed. "He was part Indian and I remember one time he convinced one of my dates that our family was part Chinese."

"What really made him feel good was when he'd go to a bar and someone would ask to see his ID (identification). He was that youthful looking."

Pleasant thoughts do not hide the hurt. The eyes moisten, the speech quivers at times and even the nice memories simply are not nice enough to erase reality. Mom and daughter seem to agree: time will not completely heal this wound.

"It'll never be all right," declared Mrs. Kincer, grasping for the right words to explain the emptiness in her life. "He'll never be home, he'll never hold his grandchild. . ."

Her voice trails off for an instant and finally she adds, "I want the guy caught. We can't bring him back and there's nothing that could hurt him (the killer) as much as he's hurt us. I don't know if I could look that man in the face. But I don't want him to put anyone else through this."

David Kincer, now 18, doesn't talk much about the shooting, according to his mother. Sometimes a note of revenge will creep into the conversation, depending on his mood. Generally though, his feelings remain internalized.

"Dave and dad were getting close," Janice revealed, "and then the bottom dropped out."

Mrs. Lillian Carr of Romulus, Kincer's mother-in-law, recalls that "the initial shock was terrible, devastating."

"He was such a nice person, more like my own son. . .," she described, breaking into tears. "We loved him like a son."

Why did Richard Lee Kincer, a calm and experienced restaurant manager, refuse to open the safe that night?

It's a mystery that continues to baffle the family, the police and corporate security personnel. Few clues, if any, exist that shed any light on the reason for his actions. Consider the facts:

1) Kincer knew the combination of the safe, a basic device found in most of the chain's outlets.

2) Burger King managers are trained to cooperate with robbers, according to Frank Buckley, safety and security consultant for the restaurant's Michigan region. "Our policy on holdups is — don't be cute. Hopefully all the bandit wants is money," Buckley said.

3) Although company minded, Kincer had a reputation for keeping his cool at all times. Ironically, Mrs. Kincer once walked in on a robbery at a grocery store in Plymouth and eventually identified the robber in a lineup. Her husband's reaction?

Belleville man's death stymies police, family

"He told me to give away the money if I was ever put in such a situation," Mrs. Kincer remarked, referring to her occupation as a grocery store cashier. "He was very forceful on that point."

4) A warning shot had been fired immediately prior to the demand for opening of the safe.

5) Considering the time of night, the safe did not contain a sizeable amount of cash. Possibly $1,000, Buckley revealed.

A case of panic in a highly pressurized situation? Not so, Buckley theorizes.

"I'm very puzzled why Mr. Kincer didn't open the safe," admitted Buckley. "It's my understanding from talking to police and another manager on the scene that Mr. Kincer told the robber that he couldn't open it because he didn't know the combination."

"When I heard that I thought 'my God, why did he say that?'" Buckley said. "That was a regular safe with a three or four number combination. I see no reason for him (Kincer) to protect the assets. My theory is that he thought it was a toy gun. Some of those small revolvers don't look real."

Buckley, who supervises security for company-owned stores in the Burger King chain (the Wayne outlet is a franch-led with reports, interviews and leads.

Although Ballou has spearheaded the investigation since being assigned to the case last August, he notes, "There's not an officer in the detective bureau that hasn't worked on this. We don't value anything more than a human life." Descriptions of the suspects are sketchy, at best. The gunman is said to be a black male, 5-foot-5 to 5-foot-7, 150 pounds and in his late teens to early 30's. The second man is a black male with a short Afro, 5-foot-9 to 6-foot, 130 to 160 pounds and also in his late teens to early 30's.

Whether or not another accomplice drove a getaway car is open to speculation. Witnesses saw a silver Trans Am parked on the west side of the former Carpenter Dodge agency in Dynamite Park earlier that evening. The vehicle, however, has never been located.

"This is our highest priority case," declared Lt. Art Morton, head of the Wayne Investigation Bureau. "We've had leads from as far away as Florida. Right now we feel the killer is somewhere in the Detroit metropolitan area."

Police believe the incident last December at the local Burger King is part of a series of cate fear of any kind on his part.

"Sooner or later they'll make a mistake and we'll get them with the evidence we have," Ballou declared. "I feel better now than two weeks after the killing. Time's on our side — they'll slip up."

Christmas will never be the same for the Kincer household. "I made dad a stocking last year, he had never had one," recalled Janice Kincer. "He ceived a dress for her honeymoon from her parents, who had visited a variety of shops before settling on the gift.

"It's the last present dad will ever pick for me," Janice said.

"These men are probably involved in several robberies," Morton said, "and they will continue to hit fast-food (restaurants) because they don't plan on getting caught."

Such an attitude will prove their undoing, predicted Ballou. The gunman being sought is not a panic-stricken criminal, Ballou explained, but rather a cold-blooded killer.

"This (shooting) was not a panic case," he explained. "The robber was in complete control of the situation ... there was nothing to indi-

.. excuse me, mr. mouse, but how do you feel about a small tax on surplus government cheese?

another Ludicrous POLL

Vote 'no' on proposal C

Proposal C, the so-called "Voter's Choice" constitutional amendment, plays on the bias of nearly every taxpayer. Of course, everyone favors lower taxes and an end to excessive spending in government. Unfortunately Proposal C takes a worthwhile idea — tax reform — and creates a monster that could not only cripple state and local government services but also harm our educational system. This proposal at first glance appears democratic. Who can oppose a means to put virtually all tax decisions, both state and local, in the hands of the electorate? Upon closer examination, however, Proposal C is exposed as a formula for financial disaster in Michigan. In reality this proposal would render the Legislature powerless while forcing the citizenry to act on a myriad of detailed and often obscure tax measures. Opponents predict the amendment would cost the state at least $950 million in revenues and hurt the state's bond rating. The ballot proposal also would:

- forbid changes in the adoption of any new taxes without voter approval;
- invalidate all new state and local taxes levied since the end of 1981, except those already approved; and
- void new state and local license fees, user permits and other fees unless approved by a four-fifths vote of the Legislature.

Rolling back taxes and demanding accountability from state and local governments is a commendable concept. But the best formula for enacting fiscal responsibility still rests with the voters and the candidates they elect to represent them. Proposal C will create turmoil. It should be soundly defeated on Nov. 6.

Your right to know...

This is a column that would be easy for me not to write. Sometimes, however, there exists a need for certain realities to see daylight. This is apparently one of those times. The events reported in all editions of Associated Newspapers last week triggered a wave of publicity throughout all segments of the media. Our disclosure of the purported illicit activities at the now infamous I-275 rest stop has had a dramatic impact on the lives of many. Such is usually the case. There are the reactions of the individuals directly involved, the family, friends, co-workers, employers — and sadly, in this case, the students of some of those apprehended. A news story may be about a purported robbery, larceny, rape, accident, murder or alleged indecent act. There are always the reactions of those involved to deal with, whether that involvement is direct or indirect. We have, obviously, been dealing with some of those reactions. Since the Roman Empire, there has been an inclination to shoot the message-bearer who brings bad news. Today, the media carries the burden of serving the people, wearing the mantle of "the public's need to know" or "right to know". Why, some may ask, does the public need to know or have a right to know about the alleged activity at the I-275 rest stop? Those cited by the state police will be heard, and if found guilty pay the consequences — if found not guilty, get on with their lives. In no way do I wish to prejudice those cases. Public acts, however, that impinge on the rights and freedom of others fall under the jurisdiction of the law.

Each week, we are called upon to make decisions about the news-worthiness of all manner of events and activities. Some decisions are easy — many are not. Through the years, there have been "tips" and "inside information" from "sources." Reports of the whereabouts of Jimmy Hoffa's body to the identity of the killer in an unsolved murder and the name of the person really responsible for missing funds, and so on and so on. We listen, we ask questions, we discuss, and then at some point, we decide. So it was with the rest stop story. Many times we have felt a conviction to break to the public news of certain events. We have, in very rare occasions, "sat on" or "spiked" a story until the daily papers broke it. There is, you see, a great risk and danger in being the first to break any story. The risk is that we may be wrong. But when certain activities are well-documented, when the sources are reliable, when the charges are serious and the impact on the public welfare clear — then failure to report such events is no longer justified and the risk must be taken. There are shades of gray in every direction that often make choices less than clear. Not this time, however. There are victimless crimes that are of question as to the value of public disclosure. We encounter many overzealous public servants who often like to "pretend". Let's "pretend" it never happened. Let's "pretend" it's not against the law. Let's "pretend" there is no crime in our town. In that I see great danger. Were it not for those in the public sector, Watergate would not have ever become front-page news, PBB and Three-Mile Is- Continued on next page

Holiday of occult?

To the Editor: Nativity scenes are banned, bible clubs are abolished, and Christian teachers are given the old heave-ho, all to the glory of our so-called concerned citizens. If crime was attacked as vehemently as Christ, it would be practically nonexistent. But the purpose of my letter is to address parents and the practice of Halloween. Halloween is the biggest holiday of the occult. This is not my imagination, this is fact. It is documented in the Satanic Bible of Devil worship. It hails all that is evil, and the children really go for it. You take your children shopping to find the bloodiest, goriest face mask, with perhaps an eye gouged out or better yet, an axe buried in the skull, all in the 'great spirit of Halloween.' Next is the 'play blood'; the demon hands, etc. Once they are dressed in all this virtue, a majority of them will go out begging for treats. A large number of them will also destroy property, terrorize little children and old people, all in the 'great spirit of Halloween.' (And, don't forget De-vil's night. One night is simply not enough to please the devil.) This will be the third year I have not permitted my children to participate in Halloween. Am I unpopular? You bet. Do I care? Yes, which is why I take this stand. Yet I am forced to see all these disgusting pictures plastered on house windows and doors. Don't look? How can I miss them? They're everywhere! My children are encouraged by their teachers to draw and color these pictures, and to participate in Halloween parties at school. Yet, not once at Christmas, have I ever seen them bring home a picture of a nativity scene, or even a wise man! (Perhaps, they don't know what a wise man is; I would be happy to explain it.) Doesn't it scare you that kids love the blood, the murders, and all the acts that go along with demon-worship? It scares me. It scares me that kids go to movies and cheer the killer and every diabolical way he can create to end someone's life. At any rate, late on Halloween night, when you're searching through your children's candy for pins, needle holes, razor blades, poison (how can you find poison?) and who knows what else, my children will be safe at home with me, perhaps enjoying some treats that I know are safe and that I wasn't too lazy to make. Or maybe you won't search them yourself. Maybe you'll take them to the police station or McDonald's to be searched by the metal detectors. Metal detectors do not detect glass or drugs. You're also hoping your children haven't devoured half the candy since you weren't with them when they collected it from all those 'nice people'. Or maybe it will be getting real late, and your children haven't come home... all in the 'great spirit of Halloween'. LINDA KROMER

Belleville

In favor of "C"

To the Editor: To say I am irate would be a gross understatement! The following is an excerpt from a letter I received from my State Senator. "The Senate Fiscal Agency reports that the State is sitting on estimated $338 million dollar surplus for '83-'84 and a $227 million dollar surplus for '84-'85. This surplus exists even after the 13% increased state spending. This means 87% of the tax increase went to create new programs or expand existing programs." It seems our bankrupt state government is living pretty well!" That is the reason I am supporting Proposal C. Our opponents, Pro Michigan hired the same Ohio advertising firm who confused the wording on the ballot which defeated their tax revolt. Dirty tricks! Auto Club of Michigan published an anti Proposal C article in their magazine which went to some 800,000 members. General Motors donated $40,000 to Pro Michigan, along with other businesses to defeat Proposal C. Continued on next page

Canton loses a father

Canton Township Clerk John Flodin died last Thursday morning, but not before proving two statements false. The first is that one person can't really make a difference. The second is that no one is indispensable.

As a reporter, my first real glimpse of John came during one of my earlier Canton board meetings when I witnessed the eruption of a noisy, heated debate on changing the form of the township's government.

It was not the first or last time I would watch John sit back in the shadows, physically withdrawing from the noisy tirade that passed back and forth.

The withdrawal could not be mistaken for indifference — I suspected then and would later learn that John Flodin cared about almost everything more than almost anybody.

No, a master of restraint, John was simply waiting. As was his way, he stared at some undefinable point in front of him, slowly rotating a pencil in one hand until, finally, his exhausted colleagues solicited his view.

Raising his head, alert, he leaned forward and, in a voice contrasting sharply with the harshly clipped tones of his fellow board members, softly drawled, "Well, I think it's like my father used to say, 'If it ain't broke, don't fix it.'"

As was often the case, appreciative chuckles followed his remark. But perhaps it wasn't a coincidence that his quiet reflection also halted discussion, at least at a public board level, of changing Canton's government.

I also remember the comfort of meeting John's steady gaze across his office desk, where I would stare past papers, photographs and a polished Petoskey stone as he patiently explained some complex policy or procedure.

The impossible accomplished (John had the wisdom to wrap the most nebulous issues into neatly comprehensible parcels) our conversation invariably turned to what we both felt to be life's more important issues — the variety of birds we'd seen feeding in our yards, the habits of our German Shepherds, the expert delivery of John's latest off-color joke. (I'd ask John when he was going to tell me one I could print. He never did.)

In the formal day-to-day operations of the township, John was an ever-present source of information — a storehouse of knowledge that department heads, staffers (and confused reporters) turned to again and again.

But perhaps we came as much to be uplifted by John's kindness, gravitating to his office as one does to the warmth of a farmhouse kitchen, for John's greatest power existed on an informal level.

John was a man who proved that the strongest men are gentle. He was a man who loved life, a man who hunted with an unloaded gun.

It took John about two minutes to make a friend out of a stranger, and only slightly longer to convert an enemy. Because he possessed the rare ability to fight issues without fighting people, he kept those he collected.

People who disagreed with him respected him. People who didn't like each other liked him. The only thing some enemies had in common was a mutual respect for John Flodin.

While wading through memories on the day of his death, someone mentioned to me how sad it was that John died before his retirement — his "golden years."

It took John about two minutes to make a friend out of a stranger, and only slightly longer to convert an enemy.

John Flodin had 63 golden years, shedding light on others as he went along. Most comforting of all, I think he knew it.

Indispensable? Canton's government, like some science fiction monster, will stagger on. But without John, there are plenty of things that won't get done as well, if at all.

Many are saying that Canton has lost a father. What follows the initial waves of grief for the township family is a fear: who's going to bandage the knees? Balance the budget? Sit at the head of the table?

The ship will sail, but its course will never be as true.

Because anyone who knew Canton, anyone who ever studied the row of seven who grapple with its problems knew where the helm of the township was — just slightly off center, in the seat occupied by John Flodin.

For many of us it's a seat, no matter who fills it, that will remain empty.

land would have quietly been tucked away without any thought of the public's rights or welfare.

Some ask why they must read bad news in the paper and hear of scandal and crime in other media — we ask why must life encompass the treachery and immorality it sometimes does.

We do not create the news. We report it.

It is, however, of no small note that in the case of the rest stop story, decisions were made by Detroit television management to air very explicit and graphic details that we chose not to publicize. The descriptions of actual acts served, no doubt, to make the public aware of the severity of the alleged acts. But I believe the manner in which these "reports" were prepared may have served the cause of sensationalism more than the public welfare.

There must be a balance and the line of demarcation on any given issue will always be unclear and a matter of debate. But tread softly my friends on the media and their just and unjust revelations. For there are many who would willingly extinguish the light of freedom of speech and freedom of information. History tells us that once extinguished, only the bloodshed of many can rekindle the flame.

Guard with your life your right to know. See you next week.

Now, we have Cecil Mackey, president of MSU sending out letters to faculty, staff and students stating a "Yes" vote on Proposal C would be a vote against education, research, business, jobs, etc. More of the same "scare" tactics. Do we, the people who support Proposal C, have any recourse? Can we obtain the list that Mackey used to express our views? I doubt it!

Our Tax dollars tc brainwash us?

To the Editor:

The Voter's Choice, Proposal C on Michigan's November 6 ballot, merely makes state government accountable to us, the taxpayers and voters. As in "Government of the people, by the people, for the people".

Meanwhile, scare artist politicians like Gov. Blanchard will spend huge amounts of money to avoid the issue, using very questionable tactics. Our tax dollars will be used to brainwash us.

Blanchard, for example, claims that Proposal C will hurt local government and education.

However, Blanchard's own county, Oakland, is planning to sue the state because of a law which Blanchard signed in July which deprives local governments and schools of $313 million annually, in violation of the Michigan constitution!!! Local school districts have similar lawsuits pending, as they have also been cheated, also in violation of Michigan's constitution.

The passage of Proposal C is absolutely necessary to guarantee Michigan's future.

It cannot guarantee that we will never again elect forked-tongue politicians, but it will guarantee that state government will listen to the people of Michigan, not just to the special-interest group's big-spending lobbyists who pull the politician's strings.

Of the People, By the People, For the People: Proposal C, the Voter's Choice.

Response to LeDuc

To the editor:

I would like to respond to Mr. LeDuc's letter in the Oct. 11, issue of your paper. Yes, Mr. LeDuc, there were some of us who had heard you were leaving the district after the June election, but you sir, could have made us look like fools.

You could have stayed. Guess what, only months after your election, you announce that you are leaving. I find this very interesting.

As for your statement that appointing Rose Mary Miller to the school board would be ludicrous, just shows how very little you know about her. She has given countless time and energy in volunteer programs in this district. I for one, have a great deal of respect for her as a person, and I am not one to freely give that respect out.

When you first received your position on the school board, Rose Mary talked to those of us, who were upset and said "give them a chance to prove themselves." Mr. LeDuc, I'm still waiting. I have never heard her say that you were not pro-education, or pro-kids, even though we had not seen you at school board meetings, prior to this time. Nor had we seen you in our numerous travel in the district doing volunteer work. Our paths did not cross.

when you were still just a little kid, Rose Mary was devoting her life to kids and education. Before you start condemning people, you should get to know more about them.

Appreciates support

To the Editor:

The members of the Metro Wayne Democratic Club would like to thank all of our friends and neighbors who turned out at our 14th annual dinner dance, at Saint Simon Jude on Saturday, October 6th. The dance was a great success and we are all looking forward to our next one.

Our special thanks to the following for their donations and support:

Congressman Bill Ford, and staff; Brownies Diner; Johnsons Car Wash; Long John Silvers, of Westland; Famous Recipe of Westland; Jack Demmer; Councilman Chuck West; Able Rental; Walt and Pat Tallmage.

We were honored to present awards to Sgt. John Colligan of the Wayne Police Dept., Ken Warfield of the Wayne Fire Dept. and Don Shannon of Able Rental. These people have made our fine community a much safer and better place to live.

Our appreciation goes out to all of our members who donated their time and effort to make the dinner dance the great success that it was.

CLIFF JOHNSON,
Club President

Scare tactics

To the Editor:

There they go again. Wasn't it predictable? Michigan's big government machine using scare tactics, threatening the citizens. Politicians, labor unions, special interest groups, big business, and every bureaucracy that has their hands in the taxpayers' pockets preaching doom and gloom.

They didn't miss a one — police, fire, schools, seniors, businesses closing, higher college tuition, children's education, and the list goes on. And they call this an upbeat, positive campaign. Gee, I hope they never get vicious.

When is the Governor and the state government in general going to start treating us like adults instead of adolescents?

Start trusting us and our judgement? And, stop insulting our intelligence with these tired, old campaigns and scare tactics? Please, give us the credit we deserve. We're tired of being conned.

People of Michigan, it's time to stand up and be counted! Who do we trust — Us or Them? Give the voters a choice and a voice. Vote yes on Voter's Choice-Proposal C.

RICHARD CHRYSLER,
Brighton

Favors Proposal C

To the Editor:

The ninety days that the Lansing politicians and their big-spending patrons will not tell you about begin November 6.

Under Proposal C, these are the ninety-day grace period which the politicians have to let us vote on the taxes which they imposed on us, but would not let us vote on, since December 31, 1981. Under Proposal C, no tax rollback can occur before February, 1985. All taxes which we voted on are unaffected (local millages).

It is important that the media in Michigan clearly state this facet of Proposal C.

The politicians and their big-spending supporters are poised to launch a massive scare campaign to attempt to frighten the Michigan voters of all the chicken-little things that will happen if Proposal C passes. Their highly-financed campaign is merely an indication of their unwillingness to let the voters decide which taxes the people will support, for what spending purposes.

Some taxes, like the gasoline tax increase, would undoubtedly receive strong support if brought to a vote.

The huge income tax hike, which remains at over a 16% increase for over three more years, would undoubtedly get the fate that it deserves, with a

"Yes" vote on Proposal C. Our taxes, the nation's highest, would be reduced. Eventually, business would flourish again.

A "Yes" vote for Proposal C is a "Yes" vote for Michigan's future.

Romulus Bowl hosts ALSAC bowl-a-thon

The Central Regional Office of ALSAC/St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced today that Romulus Bowling Center in Romulus will be conducting a Bowl-A-Thon, during the week of Nov. 9 - 17.

Jean Perecki has volunteered to coordinate the "Bowl-For-Life Campaign."

The program is dedicated to Terry who has been a patient for the past six years at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Terry of Mount Carmel, Illinois, is a normal nine-year-old girl who in March of 1978 developed acute lymphocytic leukemia, the most common form of childhood cancer. Terry has been in remission and off all medication since November of 1980.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, located in Memphis Tennessee, was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases in children. St. Jude is non-sectarian, non-discriminatory, institution.

'Great victory'

Wayne celebrates homecoming with win over Monroe

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Managing Editor

Eddie Jordan shattered a 40-year-old school record as Wayne Memorial turned back Monroe, 21-18, much to the delight of a large and enthusiastic homecoming crowd.

With the Zebras holding a 14-6 lead in the second quarter, Jordan brought the crowd to its feet by picking off a Dave Collette aerial along the sideline and racing 71 yards for a touchdown. Jordan, a junior defensive back, picked up a couple key blocks and cut back against the grain to dodge the final defenders on his record run.

The previous mark for an interception return was 53 yards, set by Jim Evans in 1944 against Lincoln Park. Jordan's TD and the point after by Doug Quartuccio gave the Zebras a 21-6 advantage they never relinquished.

Monroe opened the scoring Friday night on a seven-yard run by Collette to cap a 56-yard, 11-play drive. A two-point conversion attempt failed.

The lead was short-lived, however, thanks to an effective Wayne rushing attack that ground out 70 yards in nine plays, culminating with a Matt Mason

TD run of two yards. Fullback Kwan Hearn broke loose on an inside trap for 41 yards during the march.

In the second period Mike Jackson plunged into the end zone from a yard out at the 6:23 mark and Quartuccio booted one of three conversion points for the evening to boost the lead to 14-6 and set the stage for Jordan's heroics.

Monroe tightened the game in the waning seconds of the first half following an interception of a screen pass. Collette notched his second TD from eight yards out but the two-point try again failed leaving the halftime score at 21-12.

Collette, who completed seven of 13 aeriels, connected on a 16-yard scoring strike to Rick Joseph in the third quarter to finish off a 12-play, 71-yard offensive. It proved to be the final scoring in the contest.

Penalties thwarted the Zebras in the fourth quarter. Jackson scampered 27 yards but the play was nullified by a holding infraction. Later a 40-yard toss from Bob Millyard to Jordan was called back since a lineman was downfield on the play.

"Penalties stopped us in the second half, no doubt about it,"

Coach Floyd Carter lamented. "We had seven penalties for 68 yards and five of them came in the second half."

"Overall I'd say that Jordan, (Mike) Korzetki and (Dave) Kaitschuck played well defensively," Carter said, "and (Jeff) Ponos, (Doug) Warner, Jackson and Hearn had good games on offense. Obviously Jordan's interception was the key play of the game."

Monroe actually had the best of things statistically, with 13 first downs to 10 for Wayne and an edge in plays (54-44) and yardage (200-179). The Zebras accumulated 134 yards on returns and capitalized on three Monroe turnovers while only committing one.

Jackson amassed 76 yards in 12 carries and Hearn added 72 yards in seven rushes. Mason had 22 yards and Tim Mullroy 10 as the Zebras kept the ball on the ground. Millyard only threw five times, completing one for 11 yards.

Wayne, 2-5 on the campaign, hosts Taylor Center at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

"TC is a good team, they've won their league championship," Carter noted. "We will have to play well to beat them."

Belleville travels to Trenton

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

It's right out of the frying pan and into the fire for the Belleville Tigers this week.

After losing to undefeated Dearborn Fordson 27-0 on Saturday, Coach Pete O'Neill's football team will travel to Trenton Friday night to give battle with once-defeated and runner-up Trenton for their final Wolverine 'A' game of the 1984 campaign. (Belleville wraps up the season a week from Friday as guests of Plymouth Canton).

Trenton, loser to Fordson, 12-6, earlier in the year, is coming off of a 69-0 victory over league rival, Lincoln Park.

"Anyone who loses to Fordson by a 12-6 score obviously has a great defense," O'Neill noted, "and anyone who can put 69 points on the scoreboard against Lincoln Park has an excellent offense."

"Need I say more? We definitely will have our hands full this week."

Although his team failed to get on the scoreboard against the seventh-ranked state powerhouse, O'Neil said that he was pleased with his team's over-all performance at Fordson.

"I am extremely proud at the way the kids played and I told them afterwards that we may have been outscored, but we were not outplayed."

Belleville did threaten early in the game as quarterback Bob Spicer managed to put together a sustained drive that included a first-down, 9-yard pass to Mike Sprau, that helped move the Tigers within the Tractor 25-yard line in the first quarter.

However, that threat dissipated when the refs tagged the visitors with a pass interference infraction that tossed the Tigers for a loop.

"That penalty destroyed our momentum. The call turned the tide," O'Neill said.

Fordson came right back with John Yanowicz's 2-yard touchdown run which was set up by an interception at the Tiger 36. Yanowicz also scored early in the second quarter on a six-yard off tackle slant after David Geiss made an exceptional catch of a pass.

The Tractors led 21-0 at the halfway mark as Mike Ia-quaniello plunged over the goal line late in the first half.

The chase is on Leaving Inkster's Lafayette Upshaw (37) in his wake, Robichaud running back Ernie Johnson (43) speeds to and into the Viking end zone for a third quarter TD. Johnson led the Bulldogs to a 14-0 victory over their natural rivals and to keep their Class B playoff hopes alive they will have to defeat a tough Marine City (5-2) team on Friday. Story is on Page 2-B.

Champs are 'awesome'

Harrison humbles Canton

By BOB TURON
ANP Special Writer

With All-American John Miller leading the way, Farmington Harrison rolled to a 40-7 homecoming victory over Canton Saturday and remained the number one ranked team in the state.

Miller scored three touchdowns, all in the first half, and gained 190 yards in 20 carries. The 6'2, 195 senior went over the 1,000 yard mark for the season and has now gained more than the Chief attack throughout the game and forced a punt as the first quarter ended. On the first play of the second quarter Miller swept around right end, cut back to the left, and streaked 54 yards into the end zone. Miller later scored on a 12 yard draw play and the first half ended with the Chiefs on the short end of a 27-0 count.

The deepest penetration for the Chiefs in the first half was to the Harrison 25 yard line, but a also completed 3 of 9 passes for 56 yards.

There cannot be many bright spots for the losing side in such a lopsided defeat, but Canton coach Rich Barr managed to find a silver lining.

"Scott Campbell has been playing well for us all year and had an outstanding game at line-backer," Barr said. "David Knapp played well and Matt Flower showed why, pound for pound, he is one of the better players on our team."

With backup quarterback Tony Aiken sidelined with an injury, the Chiefs moved Steve Genyk up from the JV squad. Genyk got into the contest in the closing minutes and had two completions for 40 yards.

The Chiefs saw their record fall to 2-5 with the loss but they can take heart in knowing that they played the best team in the state about as tough as anyone else has. This Harrison squad is loaded with talent and seems to be headed for an undefeated season.

This week's schedule finds the Chiefs returning home for a Friday night skirmish with Walled Lake Central.

Miller, a legitimate All-American went over the 1,000 yard rushing mark.

4,000 yards in his career.

The Hawks made no mystery of their game plan. Miller carried the ball nine straight times on the opening drive for 69 yards and his first TD.

After a Canton fumble, Harrison unveiled some of the other weapons in its arsenal. Quarterback Vince Enright hit Brian Smolinski with a 37 yard scoring toss on the second play of the drive and, after Bill Wood's PAT, the Hawks led 14-0.

The Harrison defense stifled fumble kept Canton off the scoreboard. The Hawk domination was reflected in the yardage totals as Farmington racked up 433 yards to only 160 for Canton.

The second half saw both teams use reserves. Matt Flower finally crossed the goal line for the Chiefs as he gathered in a 25 yard aerial from quarterback David Knapp. Knapp finished the game as the leading Chief ground gainer with 42 yards in 7 carries. The senior signal-caller

Victory over Glenn clinches it for North

By KEITH A. DeMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

1965 ... 1970 ... 1978 ... Three important years in the proud history of North Farmington Raider football that saw football squads post undefeated seasons.

Last Friday night, the 1984 Raiders took a step toward such a date with destiny with a 20-7 victory over the Rockets of Westland John Glenn.

The victory for the Raiders lifted their record to a perfect 7-0 and sealed their first outright Northwest Suburban League championship since 1978. The football championship trophy will be the last awarded in the NWSL since North, Glenn, and Livonia Franklin are leaving the league at the end of this school year to begin play in the prestigious Western Lakes League in September, 1985.

Glenn's record fell to 4-3 on the season, 2-3 in the NWSL.

"North is a very good team. We played one of our better games of the year," said Glenn coach Chuck Gordon. "I was proud of the way our players played."

Gordon began the game with a one-back offense in Tony Boles, a move designed to "put in two tight ends. We wanted to give them a balanced offense so we could see what kind of defense they would play."

Strangely enough, North Farmington elected to go with the running of Scott Knoll (Sr., 6-0, 190) and Brian Hodd (Sr., 6-0, 200) in the first quarter rather than with junior tailback Marc Brown (5-4, 150) who had Coach Gordon and his staff worried.

Perhaps Raider head coach Jim O'Leary, now in his second season, had something up his sleeve.

North got the ball down to the 26-yard line on their first series when Raider quarterback Eric Engel (Sr., 5-11, 170) completed a 46-yard pass to tight end Steve Goss (Jr., 5-11, 205). But the Rockets defense held, keyed by a tackle for a 7-yard loss by Jim Vojak.

The Raiders' second drive of the first quarter ended when Bill Grisamer (Jr., 5-11, 154) of the Rockets intercepted an Engel pass and returned it 9 yards. The theft was the Rockets' 17th of the season, three shy of the record 20 set in 1981.

"Our secondary has played reasonably well all year," said Gordon. "They go to the ball well."

But Glenn, despite a 16-yard pass completion from Steve Irwin to Dave Byrd, had that drive fizzle and were forced to punt as the scoreless quarter closed.

Robichaud's Dennis McIntosh (32) duels Inkster's David Laws for this aerial during the Viking homecoming that the Dearborn Heights gridders spoiled for their natural rivals.

Robichaud ruins Inkster festivities

It took them two quarters, but Dearborn Heights Robichaud finally ruined natural rival, Inkster's homecoming festivities Friday afternoon.

Scoreless the first half, Robichaud came up with a pair of touchdowns in the second half to win a 14-0 decision and keep its post-season Class B playoff hopes alive.

"It was a victory," noted Robichaud coach Bob Yauck, "but when you have nine turnovers in the first half alone, well, it wasn't exactly beautiful. It was a sloppy victory."

Robichaud got on the scoreboard in the third quarter when Ernest Johnson cut loose on an 8-yard TD run after he had previously picked up 30 yards.

Tok Chae Sim then booted his first of two point-afterers.

The Bulldogs then clinched the crucial decision thanks to quarterback Raymond Carreathers' one-yard touchdown. That six-pointer was set up on Kenny Clark's pass interception which he carried back to the 14 from the Viking 20.

Johnson led all ballcarriers with 125 yards on 23 attempts.

Robichaud's defense held Inkster to two yards rushing and 50 in the air.

The Bulldogs must beat a tough Marine City at Marine City Friday afternoon to keep their playoff hopes alive. Robichaud is 6-1, their only loss sustained from Suburban Athletic Conference rival, Highland Park. The Parkers claimed the league title and are the only Class A team in the league.

In the meantime, Dearborn Heights Crestwood exploded for 21 points with running back Mike Koceski scoring all three touchdowns, to inflict a 21-8 loss on Cherry Hill's Tri-River Conference record. The Spartans dip-

This is it: Cougars play for title

Only the Taylor Stallions stand between the Belleville Cougars and the 1984 Senior Division Football Championship. The two title contenders will clash Saturday for the title.

The Cougars, coming off of an impressive 16-0 victory over the Taylor Golden Eagles, are host for the 1:30 p.m. showdown. In that lopsided victory over the Taylor Golden Eagles, quarterback Dennis Dobrick fired an 35-yard touchdown pass to Steve Ostrowski and also ran 16 yards for a TD.

The Cougars also tallied when John Hughes managed to nail the Eagle quarterback behind the goal line for a two-point safety. Jeff Sykes accounted for the extra point.

The Belleville freshman buried Northville's Colts last Saturday as Bob Goldwater ran for a 3-yard TD and also made the extra point.

Goldwater also hooked up on a 25-yard TD pass with T. C. Wingrove and

Dave McWilliams intercepted a pass and ran it back for a

Winless Thurston is next Marysville mauls Romulus

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus learned the hard way why Marysville is ranked the No. 1 Class B football team in the state this season.

Erupting for two touchdowns in the first quarter Marysville went on to destroy a younger Romulus club 35-0, handing the Eagles their fifth loss in seven starts.

"They (Marysville) are an excellent all-around team," commented Romulus coach Norb Glover. "Not only were they overpowering, but a very intelligent team."

Romulus will have an opportunity this week to rebound from the loss at the expense of Redford Thurston which has yet to win a game this season. Thurston will host the 1 p.m. Saturday game.

"We're in good spirits and are healthy," Glover offered. "Usually after a setback of this nature it takes a lot out of your players. But I believe the players understand that Marysville has a kind of team this year that is second to none. It was a good learning experience for our kids."

Romulus caught the hosts off-balance the first few minutes of the game as freshman quarterback Jerry Whitehill put together a drive after the opening kick-off that started from the Eagles' 20 and ended inside the Marysville 20.

Once inside the 20, however, the Eagles' momentum stalled as two key penalties killed the drive. Running back Vince Morris and Bob Slone provided the yardage in that drive while guard Ron Murawski also stood out.

Romulus's linebackers' corps, made up of David Bergman who has 80 tackles on the year, Bob O'Day, and John Montroy, was put to the test against Marysville and came out commendably. "Although the score may not appear to indicate it, these kids really played an excellent game against a top-ranked state team."

And what about Thurston?

"We don't know too much about them," said Glover. "They're looking for their first victory, so they'll be hungry. Let's hope they don't explode on us."

Ziegler injured in Huron 19-0 loss

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Missing a vital link in both its offensive and defensive chain, New Boston Huron sustained one of its worst football setbacks of the 1984 campaign as Carlson blanked Coach Tom LaBeau's Chiefs 19-0 last Friday.

Danny Ziegler, the Chiefs' mainstay on offense and a middle guard on defense, suffered a leg injury early in the combat and was sidelined.

"We have no excuses," said Coach LaBeau. "We didn't play well, and Carlson did. But losing Danny early in the game didn't help the situation any."

Huron mustered six first downs to Carlson's 11, but the Chiefs didn't get any of those in the second half. In fact, one key stat is that they only had the ball for 13 plays the entire second half.

Ziegler, who suffered an ankle injury, will be back in the Huron line-up for Friday night's conference encounter with Airport. The game has been designated as "Parents' Night" and LaBeau feels his team will be ready.

"Airport hasn't won a game all season," LaBeau noted, "but they have come close. We're going to have the parents here Friday night and we're going to do everything to make sure that they don't go away disappointed."

Eagles earn jr. varsity title

Displaying outstanding team speed and durability, the Romulus Eagles turned back Taylor Truman 39-0 last week to capture the Metro Conference junior varsity football championship.

It was the first time since the late 1950's that a Romulus junior varsity club had won the title, according to coaches Larry Thomas and Glen Free.

Key to the championship season was the outstanding and consistent performance of quarterback Luther Sharron who had a wide range of excellent receivers in Tim Russell, Richard Doase and Kevin Farris.

The Eagles also had talent in their running backs: Mike Ross, Victor Hicks and John Morris. Defensively, Robert Coffey, Mark Dubyak, Tommy Schlever and defensive end Ferrence Yarborough stood out.

Romulus cagers share title with Taylor Truman

Defending Metro-Conference basketball champ, Romulus, handed over half of the championship to Taylor Truman last week as the champs lost a thrilling overtime rematch to their arch-rivals, 55-53.

"We felt we played hard enough to win," said Romulus coach Ron Bayes. "We are disappointed in that we didn't win the championship outright as we did a year ago, but these girls still retained a share of the title."

Deadlocked at 47-all after regulation play, Truman managed to claim its first share of the crown thanks to six free throws and a basket in the extra period. They got an exceptional performance from Dimetrece Glenn who sank a game-high 20 points.

Romulus had an opportunity to stash the game away in regulation time as Donna McKay was awarded a one-and-one in the last seconds but missed the free throw. McKay wound up with 17 points and 16 rebounds while cousin, Colleen, chipped in 19 points and Sue Omuzura had seven blocked shots.

Both teams ended the Metro Conference season with identical 5-1 records.

Earlier in the week Romulus buried Oak Park 82-32 as Donna McKay tossed in 20 points and Colleen sank 18 and collected 10 assists and seven steals.

Inkster's Theotis Jones (22) sees adversary approaching in the form of Robichaud defender Ernie Johnson (43). The Vikings couldn't muster enough offense against the defending Suburban Athletic Conference champs and fell 14-0. "We played a good first half," says Inkster coach Arnice James, "and the kids really tried. I think the strong winds played a key factor in this game."

Northville stuns Salem, 52-14

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

Plymouth Salem watched their hopes for a .500 season go down the drain Friday night in a dismal 52-14 loss to Northville. With two games to go, the Rocks are a disappointing 2-5.

"We just didn't do anything right, and when we did, it was called back," said coach Tom Moshimer, referring to a kickoff return that would have kept Salem in the game early in the first quarter.

Steve Sobditch took off down the sideline and threw a lateral pass to crack receiver Craig Morton who took it into the end zone, only to have it called back on what Moshimer felt was a bad call.

"I had not complained about one single call until Friday night," said Moshimer, "but I had plenty to complain about there."

Moshimer was quick to point out, though, that a couple of bad calls were not responsible for a 40-0 halftime lead.

"Northville was flawless, and we were flat, not even in the game mentally."

Next week, Salem takes on Walled Lake Western, which sports a 1-6 record. Moshimer says that while no plans are being made to change starting assignments, things may change rapidly if Salem comes out "without any emotional effort," said Moshimer.

Huron wins district equestrian title

The newly-formed Huron High School equestrian team clinched the district championship after it won its third and final team competitions staged last week in Hartland.

The local riders garnered 372 points, beating out their closest rival, Clinton, which had 212, for top honors. Nicole Vitale was the leading scorer for the three meets with a point total of 97, followed by her sister, Jeanene, with 77. Tina Burke was third highest scorer with 50.

Other members of the championship team included: Michele Burke, Tim Bush, Michelle Lanshire, Jeanne Miller, Jeff Nemeth, Scott Nemeth and Tonja Shears.

The final standings are as follows: Huron 372; Clinton 212; Brighton 206; Adrian 205; Ypsilanti 181; Lakeland 174; Saline 142; Belleville 136; Northville 124; Fowlerville 96; Ann Arbor Pioneer 59; Holly 56; Plymouth Canton 10 and Gabriel Richard 8.

Huron is coached by Myia Filak and Kathy Crowley.

Teams are divided into two categories according to size; A division consists of large schools with 11 or more team members; B division teams have nine or less members with a minimum requirement of four. Ten member teams have the option of being classified as an A or B team.

The meets are run similar to a horse show with emphasis placed on equitation and rider ability only, except in speed events. Points are accumulated after each event according to individual placings. At the end of the third and final meet all points are totaled for each team and the team scoring the highest number of points has the opportunity of competing in the state championship to be held Oct. 28 in Mason.

Huron won its first meet at the Circle R Ranch with a total score of 124. Ypsilanti came in second with a score of 58. Other schools that participated in the meet were; Clinton, Ann Arbor Pioneer, Manchester and Gabriel Richard.

At the second meet, held in Ann Arbor, Huron placed second with a score of 112, only 4 behind Milford which is a class A team. At the same meet Huron beat South Lyons, also a class A team with 24 members. When a class B team competes against a class A team the scores are separated according to their class categories.

The Huron team won its third and final meet at Crystal Valley Show grounds with a score of 136. Manchester, class A, followed with a score of 66.

Glenn falls to North

North, set back by a five yard illegal procedure penalty, then exploded. First, Knoll ran for 23 yards, then O'Leary came up with his trick as he unleashed the diminutive Brown, who scooted and darted 44 yards to the Rockets' 17-yard line. Brown picked up 12 of the final 17 yards for the touchdown. The PAT failed and the Raiders led only, 6-0.

"Brown is a good one," commented Gordon. "They have a great team. As great as he is, he's not the only weapon. They play great defense."

The score by the Raiders was the first time they have scored against a Rocket team since 1981 when they posted a 14-6 win.

But Glenn has played North tough over the years, and this game would prove no different.

The Rockets got a break at the 5:23 mark of the second period when a bad snap sailed over the head of the punter who retrieved the ball and got off a punt, short as it was. Scott Lucas downed it for the Rockets at the 38-yard line.

After two runs by Boles failed to negotiate any yardage, Irwin found Cass Simpson at the 17-yard line for a 27-yard completion and a first down. Boles picked up 8 of his game-high 109 yards two plays later and an offside call on North moved the ball to the four.

Here, Gordon dispensed with his one-back offense and went to the Power-I. That formation netted the touchdown on Boles' 4-yard run. Chris Piazza's PAT was good and Glenn led, 7-6.

"I thought we had the lead at halftime and could build on that," said Gordon. "They came right back and scored and put the momentum back on their side."

Visions of a major upset of the state's 8th ranked team danced in the heads of the Rockets and their fans.

But those visions went poof as North came right back to take the lead at halftime.

It was not Brown who took them there; rather it was the arm of Engel, who completed passes of 19 yards to Buddy Pope (Sr., 6-0, 160), 7 yards to Kurt Gawley (Sr., 5-11, 150), and finally, the 20-yarder to Knoll for the touchdown. Goss' PAT made it 13-7 at the half.

In the third quarter, the defense of both teams took over and held the offenses in check. Glenn's defense, led by Dana Jones, kept the Raiders down as they repeatedly got the ball back for their offense. Jones sacked Engel on North's first series of downs in the second half that forced a Raider punt.

Glenn, with Boles picking up 34 yards got the ball to midfield but North's defense stiffened and held Boles to negative yardage.

One play later, Glenn had the ball back when Vojak recovered a fumble but the Rockets could not move the ball as the Raiders got increasingly tougher on defense.

Finally, late in the fourth quarter, North put the icing on the championship trophy with a Marc Brown two-yard run, that was set up by a 23-yard scamper to the 3-yard line by Hood. Goss' PAT made it 20-7 and the celebration for the Raiders and their fans began.

For the Rockets, their next target is always dangerous Highland Park on Friday afternoon.

"They are the biggest team we have ever played," said Gordon, "and probably the best we've played all year."

The Polar Bears have won five straight after two early-season losses and won the Suburban Athletic Conference championship, defeating Dearborn Heights Robichaud in the process.

The JV Rockets posted their sixth shutout of the season, 6-0, as they defeated North Farmington and clinched the JV league title.

Also, Stevenson Junior High School's Saints, behind touchdowns from Bryant Satterlee and Erik Paul, defeated Marshall 14-0.

Title is at stake

25-yard TD.

The Junior and Varsity clubs, however, were not as fortunate. The Junior Varsity was blanked 18-0, while their teammates on Varsity dropped a closer-than-the-score indicates, 13-0 decision.

The three Cougar teams will travel to Westland on Sunday to play the Comets for their next series of games. The first game is at 1 p.m.

Jones-Korthase exchange vows

Christ Lutheran Church in Boyne City, was the setting for the Aug. 4 wedding of Karen Gail Jones and Darryl Steven Korthase. The double ring nuptials were performed by Pastor Kenneth Bernthal before 200 wedding guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Jones of Wayne are parents of the bride. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norval M. Korthase of Boyne City.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an off-the-shoulder taffeta layered dress with rosette trim. The skirt ended in a chapel length train and her matching hat featured a net blusher veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Classical music was played by the organist, Roberta Korthase and violinist, Arline Hoelscher.

Dianne D'Pulos and Lisa Woodworth attended the bride as maids of honor and bridesmaids were sister of the bride, Laurie and Jeanette Jones. They wore pink Victorian style dresses and miniature pink rose corsages.

Kim Korthase, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Bruce, Randy and Brian Korthase, brothers of the groom. Ushers were Phillip Jones, brother of the bride and Roger Korthase, cousin of the groom.

A reception, given by the parents of the bride, was held in the Boyne City Bowling Alley banquet hall. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents, at Country Star banquet room on Aug. 3.

The newlyweds honeymooned at Myrtle Beach, S.C., and are now residing in Horton Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Korthase

The groom is employed at Manthei, Inc., and the bride is employed at the Petoskey Holiday Inn.

Korotney-Forbes say 'I do'

The historic United Presbyterian Church of Belleville provided the setting for the Sept. 29 candlelight nuptial of Jean Ann Korotney and Scott Allen Forbes.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with blue and white flowers and ferns and a candle of unity, was the bride's uncle, Pastor Ken Creason of Marlette, Michigan.

The bride is the daughter of Harrison and Julia Smith of Belleville and the late Albert G. Korotney. The groom is the son of Dick and Judy Forbes of Columbiaville, Michian, and Robert and Bev. Ozdowski of Margate, Florida.

Traditional wedding music was played on the organ by Susan Stahl of Belleville, cousin of the groom, while Roxanne Long of Marlette, was the soloist. She sang "If" for the bride and groom.

The bride donned a gown of white satin with a full train and bouffant sleeves, changing to a fitted lace with satin buttons to the waist. A sweetheart neckline accented the princess bodice that came to point on the flowing A-line skirt, edged in toe-touching lace and pearls.

Lace motifs on the bodice and sleeves were hand beaded with pearls and sequins by the bride's mother. Satin, lace and cascades of pearls capped the bride's illusion veil.

Given in marriage by her father and mother, the bride carried a cascade bouquet of white satin roses, white silk gardenias, baby's breath and a touch of baby blue rose buds.

Serving as the maid of honor was Tammy Thomas of Livonia, a close friend, who wore a blue satin gown with sweetheart neckline, A-line skirt and matching jacket with bouffant sleeves. She carried a blue and white bouquet of white silk roses, baby's breath and English ivy.

the bridesmaids in similar ensembles, were Julann, Kathryn and Kathleen Korotney of Belleville, sisters of the brides, Lori Rizzo of Denver Colorado and Marcie Harlow of Wayne, friends of the bride. Their bouquets were smaller versions of the honor attendant's.

The groom asked Darrin Long of Marlette, his cousin, to serve as best man. The groomsmen were Kirk Dale of Marlette, a friend of the groom; Bill and Mike Korotney of Belleville, brothers of the bride; and Rich Forbes of Margate, Florida, brother of the groom.

The groom wore a navy blue cutaway for the ceremony, while the best man and groomsmen wore cutaways that complimented the blue and white theme.

Mrs. Smith chose a light blue crepe gown, accented with rhinestones, with a matching chiffon capelette. Her shoes and purse matched the ensemble.

Mrs. Ozdowski chose a grey crepe evening dress with a draped neckline and matching jacket with a jewelled motif trim.

After exchanging vows, the newlyweds presented their respective mothers with a single long stem red rose.

Following the ceremony, a reception line was formed in the Progressive Hall in Romulus, where the newlyweds greeted the more than 350 guests, and family members who came from Canada, Colorado, New York, Ohio, Florida and throughout Michigan.

A three-tiered wedding cake, baked by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Vernon Forbes,

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Forbes was decorated with a blue waterfall and topped with a bride and groom standing under a lace parasol. Serving the cake was the groom's aunt, Doris Carter of Marlette.

Wedding coordinators were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith of Belleville.

The newlyweds were transported to the church and reception in a chauffeured limousine, a gift from Bobby and Ann Hutch of the Grand Ole Country musicians of Belleville.

Following a wedding trip to Niagra Falls and northern Michigan, the new Mr. and Mrs. Forbes took up residence in Belleville.

Mrs. Forbes is a 1982 graduate of Marlette High School and the Huron Shores Beauty College in Port Huron. She currently is employed in Ann Arbor.

Her husband is a 1982 graduate of Marlette High School. He attended Mott College in Flint and currently is employed with ABC Mobile Homes in Belleville.

Hardway-Luttman marry

Guests came from as far away as Arizona and California for the recent nuptial of Suzanne Marie Hardway of Romulus and Terry James Luttman of Romulus.

The couple exchanged their vows in an afternoon, double-ring ceremony before Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally at the Romulus City Hall.

The bride is the daughter of Charles and Marie Hardway of Romulus, while the groom is the son of Edward Luttman of St. Louis, Missouri, and Mrs. Cindy Stevens of Morley, Michigan.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white gown accented by a Queen Anne collar, trimmed in venise lace with seed pearls and sequins, a sweetheart-cut bodice covered in wedgewood lace with venise lace appliques and sleeves of gigot-cut wedgewood lace with a chantilly lace ruffles at the elbow. The skirt fell into five tiers of chantilly lace ruffles and chapel-length train.

Her blusher veil was held in place by a white band trimmed in reembroidered chantilly lace with seed pearls and sequins, and fell into a waltz length veil edge with a wide band of reembroidered chantilly lace.

Her bouquet was of white silk roses, white sweetheart roses, with lily of valley accents throughout. Greenery, satin bows and lace and satin streamers also complimented the bouquet.

The bride asked Jennifer

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Luttman

Hardway of Taylor, her sister-in-law, to serve as matron of honor. Her gown was of lace, with a stand-up collar, point d' seprit front and back yokes, crystal pleated flounce trim, puffed sleeves and sash tie. Her bouquet was of the French colonial style, with white silk azelias, yellow sweetheart roses, baby's breath, satin bows, french netting and satin ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids were Susan Housley of Romulus, Linette O'Connor of Romulus and Marybeth Williams of Taylor, friends of the couple.

Their gowns were maize in color and of the same style as the honor attendant. They wore a single yellow silk rose with baby's breath in their hair and carried bouquets like that of the honor attendant.

The groom asked Larry Luttman of Romulus, his twin brother, to serve as best man.

Ushers for the ceremony were Russ Mumaw of Southgate, a friend of the groom, Carl Hardway of Taylor, brother of the bride, and Bob Dimsdale of Dearborn Heights, friend of the groom.

Mrs. Hardway chose a coral-colored A-line street length polyester dress with a V-neckline, with chiffon overlay and pearls draping the front, and cape sleeves. Her corsage was of double yellow arnations, with baby's breath, greenery and yellow satin ribbon.

Mrs. Luttman wore a street length violet blue dress with matching jacket. Her corsage was of yellow carnations, with baby's breath, greenery and yellow ribbon accents.

A reception for the newlyweds and their more than 100 guests was held at the Wayne Community Center. A three-tiered cake with white ribbon icing and a fountain at the bottom of the cake was served.

The newlyweds will honeymoon later this year in Arizona and are currently living in Wayne.

The new Mrs. Luttman is a 1984 graduate of Romulus Senior High School. She is the former CB Teen Queen, 1980 Roaring Twenties jamboree CB Teen Queen and 1980 Ypsi Misfits member. She is employed as a secretary for a semi-trailer firm in Romulus.

Her husband attended Romulus Senior High School.

Looking for child care?

Good Hope Child Care Center, located in Good Hope Lutheran Church, 28680 Cherry Hill Road in Garden City, is hoping to increase its enrollment.

The center offers both full and part-time programs for 3-5 year olds, a two-hour preschool program, and after-school child care for children up to 10 years of age.

Daily activities include art, literature and language, music, science, community awareness, readiness work in math and reading, activities to enhance large and small muscle coordination and various group interactions to foster independence and healthy emotional expression.

Both directors are certified in early childhood education and because the center is small, are able to individualize instruction.

Martha-Mary Chapel is setting for Popek — Boeve nuptial

Susan Lynne Popek and John Raymond Boeve were united in marriage on Aug. 11 at the Martha-Mary Chapel in Greenfield Village. Susan's parents, Tom and Sharon Popek of Newberry Street in Wayne, had been married in the same chapel 26 years ago, with the same minister, Rev. Robert L. Dickson of First Presbyterian Church officiating at their wedding, also. John is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John Boeve of Plymouth, Michigan.

Mayor Patrick J. Norton spoke on "The Importance of Family" during the ceremony and wedding music included Beethoven's "Ode to Joy".

Arrangements of flowers in white and shades of pink were on the altar and glowing candlelight added an old-fashioned elegance to the chapel when the bride walked down the aisle on the arm of her father.

The bride's gown was fashioned of cotton voile in the Victorian style. It featured a high lace collar accented by a sweetheart styled bodice and rows of ribbon beading and Chantilly lace coming to a point at the waistline. The puffed sleeves were finished at the elbow with rows of white satin ribbon beading and lace. Rows of the white satin ribbon beading went around the waist and were repeated on the gown's full skirt and cathedral train.

Her headpiece featured a hat with matching satin bow and clouds of silk tulle forming the fingertip veil. She carried a white cotton voile parasol trimmed with satin ribbon and overflowing with daisies, miniature carnations, snapdragons and babies breath. Her "something old" was the white silk handkerchief also carried by her sister, mother and great-aunt, Mrs. Gordon Carnochan, at their weddings.

Sandra Popek Birch, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a tea-length gown of white cotton voile, designed by the bride, featuring puffed sleeves with the neckline, cuffs and fitted waist accented by silvery blue ribbon beading woven through scalloped lace. A matching row of the silvery blue ribbon beading and scalloped lace appeared above the hemline. A wreath of babies breath was worn on her head and she carried an armful of long-stemmed flowers, including daisies, snapdragons and carnations in varying shades of pink which gave the impression they had just been picked from the garden.

Bridesmaids included Elizabeth Brown, cousin of the bride, from Wayne; Jayne Goodrich-Mednick of New Haven, Connecticut; Diane Burgoon Vojtkofsky of Belleville; Karen Baker of Plymouth; Nancy Barrett of Wheaton, Illinois; Cathy deBear, sister of the groom, from Powell, Ohio. Their white tea-length gowns were identical to the matron of honor's, and they carried matching bouquets.

Timothy P. Popek, brother of the bride, flew home from Heidelberg, West Germany, where he is serving with the U.S. Army, to perform the duties of best man. Groomsmen were all friends of the groom from Central Michigan University. They included Tim Bailey of Westland, Dave Baker of Plymouth, Dave Dusenbery of Chicago, Illinois, Dave Hehn of Troy, Chuck LeFevre of Rochester and Steve Moorehead of Wilmington, California. They also wore white.

The bride asked her cousins, Tabettha and Jack Brown, to serve as her flower girl and ringbearer. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis T. Brown of Wayne. Tabettha's dress was floor length and identical to those in the wedding party with the exception of a silvery blue satin sash. Jack carried a white pillow featuring silvery blue embroidery and fastened to it were the matching gold wedding rings. It was designed and made by his mother.

Mrs. Popek wore a crystal pleated two-piece gown of mauve silk for her daughter's wedding with an orchid in her hair. She carried the embroidered silk fan that she had carried at her own wedding as her only accessory. Mrs. Boeve chose a beige silk chiffon dress with lace trim for her son's wedding and wore an orchid on her wrist.

Special guests included John's grandmother, Mercedes Peterson who came from Osage, Iowa, for the occasion, and Susan's grandmother, Mrs. Steve Brown and her great-grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Zientek of Detroit.

An English country garden was the theme of the reception which followed at the Airport Hilton, where potted plants and greenery were arranged around the ballroom and each table was centered with a white candle and hurricane lamp tied with satin ribbon.

A white wicker gazebo contained a round table centered with the four-tier wedding cake. Each tier was decorated with a design featuring the silvery blue ribbon found on the honor attendants' gowns. An arrangement featuring the identical pink and white flowers as carried by the wedding party topped the cake.

Guests were greeted by the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. S. Michael Brown and by family friends, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ross. They were ushered to their tables by the bride's cousins, Brian and Rick Brown. Susan asked her aunts, Miss Marilyn Brown and Mrs. Curt Brown, to help cut and serve the wedding cake.

The bride is a graduate of Wayne Memorial and has been active in theater and recreation projects in this area. Following graduation from Central Michigan University, she moved to Illinois, where she is a recreation therapist for Fox Valley Special Recreation in N. Aurora, Ill. The groom graduated from Plymouth High School and from Central Michigan University also. He currently is the manager of the Boudin Bakery, a gourmet food store in Oak Brook, Ill. They are making their home in the Chicago area following a honeymoon in the Caribbean.

Petrasky — Cundy wed

Candles and white altar flowers decorated St. Ann's Episcopal Church in Old Lyme, Connecticut, for the Sept. 15 nuptial of Sharon Kay Petrasky of Groton, Connecticut, and Donald Frederick Cundy of New London, Connecticut.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Petrasky of Belleville, while the groom is the son of Mrs. Donald Cundy of Rochester, New Hampshire, and the late Donald Cundy.

Seventy-five guests were in attendance for the double-ring ceremony, officiated by Dr. Kirk Smith.

The bride wore a gown of white chiffonella. The bodice was of point de'espirit, with a sheer yoke and high contoured collar with pearl droplets. Venise lace, embellished with pearls and crystals, accented the bodice and long traditional sleeves. The circular skirt fell into a chapel-length train and was bordered with scalloped venise lace.

Her fingertip veil fell from a wreath encrusted with pearls and lace, and her bouquet was of stephanotis, white carnations and baby's breath.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride asked Jennifer Henning Lanane of Grand Marais, Michigan, a high school friend, to serve as honor attendant. She wore a chiffon floor length periwinkle blue gown for the ceremony and carried a bouquet of white carnations and blue cornflowers.

Serving as bridesmaids were Dr. Cathy Petrasky of Richmond, Virginia, sister of the bride, and Nancy Cundy of Rochester, New Hampshire, sister of the groom. Their gowns and bouquets matched those of the honor attendant.

The groom asked Emmet Cosgrove of New London, Connecticut, a friend, to serve as best man. The ushers were Dr. John R. Petrasky, of Dearborn, sister of the bride, and Douglas Cundy of Rochester, New Hampshire, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Petrasky chose a lavender floor length gown of polychiffon for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of contrasting silk flowers.

Mrs. Cundy wore a pink chiffon floor-length gown and a corsage of contrasting silk flowers for the ceremony.

A champagne dinner reception for the newlyweds and their guests was held in St. Ann's Hall in Old Lyme. The rehearsal dinner, given by the groom's mother, was held at Poor Richard's in New London.

The couple is now

Williams Cooper marry

Two hundred guests were in attendance for the recent nuptial of Mary E. Williams of Inkster and Gregory B. Cooper of Inkster.

Peach and ivory floral arrangements, a brass archway and peach-colored pew bows decorated the Great Mission Baptist Church of Inkster for the ceremony, officiated by the Rev. John Rivers. The music was by Jerome Jackson.

The bride is the daughter of Mary Adams and Nathan Williams, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooper.

The bride, given in marriage by Edward Randolph, chose a white deupon ball-style gown with a layer of white lace over the hooped skirt. She wore a white hat accented with a shoulder-length illusion veil. Her bouquet was of peach and white mixed flowers.

The bride asked her cousin, Patricia Robinson, to serve as her maid of honor. She wore a peach and ivory lace gown accented with a ruffled hem, and carried a candle with peach and light peach colored flowers.

Serving as bridesmaids were Linda Joins, Mrs. Sharon McCullen and Joeleen Chaney. They also wore peach colored gowns accented with lace ruffled hems. They carried a candle with peach and dark peach colored floral accents, and their headpieces were a light peach color with attached back veils.

Flower girls for the ceremony were Arlinda Williams and Rania Williamson, who wore light peach colored outfits with ivory lace sleeves and carried white baskets filled with flowers.

The groom asked David Sams to serve as best man. Ushers for the nuptial were Richard Brown, Joe Stephens and Eugene Chaney.

Mrs. Williams chose a pale peach colored dress, with lace bodice for her daughter's wedding, while the groom's mother chose an ivory colored gown with lace bodice.

A reception for the newlyweds and 150 guests was held at the VFW Hall on Beech Daly Road. The rehearsal dinner was held at the groom's parents' home.

The couple honeymooned in the Pocono Mountains.

Sophie Zoller, Belleville BPW choice for 1984 Woman of the Year.

Outstanding: Zoller gets honor

In conjunction with the observance of National Business Women's Week, the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club annually selects one of its members for the honor of "Woman of the Year."

At the Oct. 1 dinner meeting at Faith United Methodist Church, the group turned the spotlight on a member of four years' standing, and its current president, Sophie Zoller, of Belleville.

Since joining BPW in 1980, Zoller has set out to know all there is to know about the organization at all levels — local, district, state, national and international.

She has traveled many, many miles, by car, plane, bus and even horse-drawn vehicles throughout the country and Canada to pursue her BPW goals. She has served in almost every executive capacity in the Belleville Club. She enrolled in an Individual Development Program and represented District XIII at a State Convention IDP speak-off.

Presently, she is serving in the highest club office as president, and is not afraid to try another way to accomplish a task. She attempts to streamline the club's performances by innovative means.

Zoller was born in Posen, Michigan, and graduated from Posen High School. She is one of seven children. She attended Northeastern School of Commerce in Bay City, and has attended classes at Madonna College, Wayne County Community College and Detroit College of Business.

Zoller is an employee of the University of Michigan as an academic secretary in the School of Engineering.

She is deeply devoted to her family, her church, and is highly visible in her community. Frying chicken for a family reunion is no big thing to her. Neither is baking and selling strawberry pies for St. Anthony's, nor is the hauling of a gang of kids to a 4-H fair.

She is acting treasurer for the Veterans of Foreign Wars and is also great at making floats for parades.

Zoller goes about singing "I'm Just Wild About Harry". Harry is her husband and they have one daughter, Pamela. Pam attends Michigan State University, and is also a student member of BPW.

Zoller is a lady who copes with working in the city, driving the freeways, and enjoys the rural setting of their home on Haggery Road in Belleville.

"We thank Sophie, for opening her beautiful home for many BPW functions, and must include thanks to her nephew, Ted Smolinski, who has been involved in making floats for the Christmas parade and Strawberry Festival parade in Belleville for BPW," a club spokesman said.

"Congratulations, Sophie, and your Club challenges you to pursue a state office, as you have insight and vitality to strengthen BPW, and your participation can make a difference."

3. Card of Thanks

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Holy Spirit, you make me see everything and show me the way to reach my ideals, you give me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrongs that are done to me and you are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with you, my loved one, in your perpetual glory. Amen. Persons must pray this prayer 3 consecutive days without asking your wish. After 3 days your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this dialogue as soon as the favor has been granted. Thanks, St. Jude for favors received. L.D.M.

Inkster vocalist to compete

Franchie Joy (Sandusky) of Inkster will be among the vocalists to compete on the Saturday Night Music Machine show at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 3 on WDIV channel 4. All contestants will be featured in music videos for which they conceived the themes.

A 1978 graduate of Romulus High School, Franchie is a marketing graduate of Detroit College of Business in Dearborn. She serves as president of Joy Entertainment Corp., a small entertainment firm she founded last year to promote her career as a singer and writer.

Her ultimate goal is to assist new artists in the establishment of their entertainment careers.

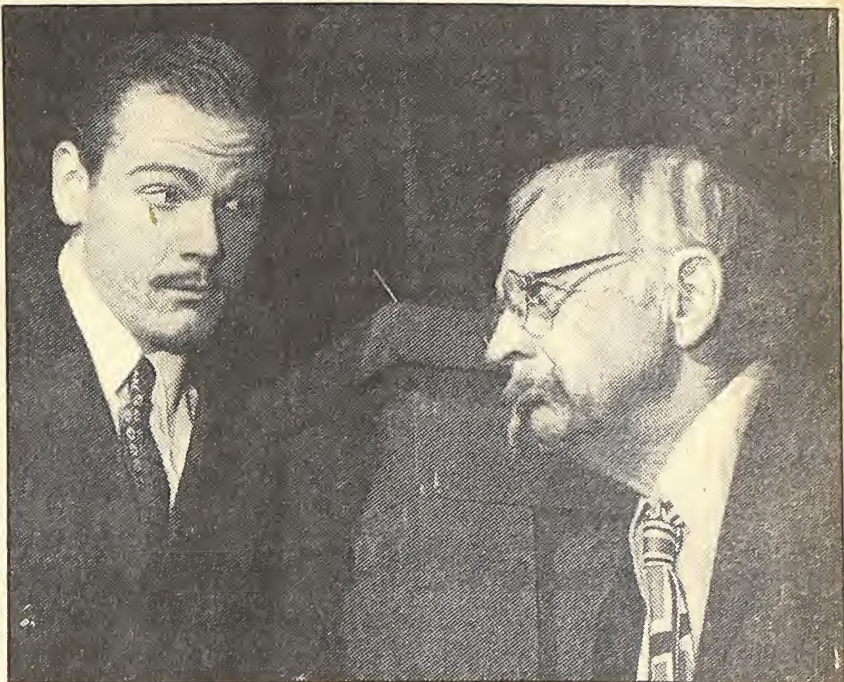

Franchie Joy (Sandusky)

Romulus actor portrays attorney in unique play

For Henry Bennett, the jury's always out.

Bennett is cast in the leading role of district attorney in "The Night of January 16th," and the jury for each performance includes 12 persons from the audience at the Henry Ford Museum. Involving the playgoer in the proceedings provides an unpredictable ending for this Ayn Rand drama, which will be featured at 8:30 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays through Nov. 10.

A Romulus resident, Bennett is no stranger to the Henry Ford stage. He has appeared in nine roles with the Greenfield Village Theatre Company, including the title character of Monty Brewster in "Brewster's Millions," Jack Cheviot in "Naughty Anthony," and Robert Ellingham in "Shenandoah."

Henry Bennett (left) of Romulus cross examines a key witness, Jerome Snider, in "The Night of January 16th," the murder-mystery featured through Nov., 10 at the Henry Ford Museum Theater.

A famous murder trial of the Superior Court of the State of New York is the basis of "The Night of January 16th."

The drama grippingly portrays American court procedure as the trial attempts to resolve the evidence in the alleged murder of a young tycoon who plummeted to his death from atop his own building. The accused is a striking, self-assured young businesswoman whose complicated professional and personal relationship with the victim suggests many motives for his murder. A cast of colorful witnesses adds to the courtroom intrigue.

Since the case is tried by using a different jury selected from the audience at each performance, guilt or innocence remains an open question every night of the play. This provides the excitement of unrehearsed verdict. To accommodate either possibility, alternate endings were written into the script.

Realism is heightened by presenting the entire play in a court setting facing the audience, with the audience, with the audience jury seated onstage with the players.

"The Night of January 16th" became one of America's most popular plays after its opening at New York's Ambassador Theatre in 1935.

This unique offering is the final production of the 1984 regular series at Henry Ford Theater.

All seats are reserved. Tickets are $5 each and are available daily at the entrance to Greenfield Village or at the Museum Theater box office one hour prior to each performance.

A combination package of candlelight dinner in the museum's American Cafe and theater tickets is available. For additional information, call the Reservations Center at 271-1620.

Michael Jackson

He's won the hearts of Millions
With his singing and his dance.
A music man of Rock and Roll
With shoes that flash prance.

An idol of the concert world.
A Black Youth sparked with joy.
A gifted terpsicorion
When he was just a boy.

He wears a glove of magic
With diamonds on pure white.
That match the glitter of his socks
As he dances through the night.

A hundred golden records spin
The voice of a silver bell.

While a Million teenage girls and boys
Clap and scream and yell.

The frenzy of his motion
Cause the din of concert sound.
As the psychedelic rhythms
Seem to vibrate the ground.

With the "Thriller's" jubilation
And the "Pretty Young Thing,"
"Off The Wall" and "Beat It,"
Cause everyone to sing.

There's a Heaven full of Star-Dust
In this dynamo of action.
All the Vicky's and the Cindys,
Every girl Loves Michael Jackson.

Theatre group expands

Some may call it the quintessential Midwestern small town.

New Boston has plenty of small town attributes: homes on unpaved streets shaded by tall trees, churches, a post office, a bank, bars, an antique shop, a bakery and an active community theatre.

In its second season, the Huron Civic Theatre is housed in the auditorium of Huron High School in New Boston, a modern facility with good seating, lighting and sound. Formed primarily to benefit the school's extracurricular activity fund, the group has expanded to offer eight productions this year.

The next major production will be the award-winning musical "1776," scheduled Nov.

9 through 11 and Nov. 16 through 18.

Further plans include a Christmas concert featuring the Dearborn Community Chorale and radio personality Mike Whorf; Tim McKanic's one-man show, "Mark Twain;" Buddy Rich and his band in a

February concert; a musical variety show in March, and production of Neil Simon's comedy "Barefoot in the Park."

For further information on the Huron Civic Theatre and tickets, call 782-1505 weekdays.

'Old fashion day' scheduled

When was the last time you saw women in high-button shoes and bonnets, and men wearing spats and stovepipe hats?

Members of Fair Haven Baptist Church, 34850 Marquette, Westland, will be decked out in turn-of-the-century clothes this Saturday for "Old Fashion Day" activities. A gospel concert by the Rhythm Masters Quartet of Cincinnati, Ohio, at 7 p.m. will cap off the day's festivities.

Old-fashion dress is the style for the day and bibbed overalls, long dresses, bonnets, string ties and stovepipe hats will be in abundance. Beginning at 1 p.m., activities such as apple bobbing, cake walking and pie-eating contest will be featured.

A pot-luck dinner will be served at 5 p.m. with old-fashioned country cooking highlighting the meal and homemade ice cream served for dessert. Also, prizes will be awarded for the best "1900 Era" costumes.

"The Rhythm Masters Quartet is one of the greatest singing groups in the country today and we feel extremely fortunate to have them with us at Fair Haven," said Rev. Paul Heady, pastor of the church. "They will bless the hearts of all who hear them. Many will remember them from our outdoor concert this past summer and we're expecting a large turnout."

There is no charge for the evening concert and the public is invited to come dressed either in old-fashioned apparel or modern-day clothes.

For further information, call 729-4793 or 569-8457.

Applicants sought for Presidential Classroom program

A Presidential Classroom for Young Americans, the nation's leading educational program focusing on the federal government, is now accepting applications for 1985 class.

The classroom brings together high school juniors and seniors from all 50 states and foreign nations for an intense one-week examination of the inner-workings of the federal government and the complexities of democratic decision-making.

Presidential Classroom, a non-profit, non-partisan, educational organization, serves over 3,000 exemplary students from 1,100 high schools annually.

Airman Kimberly D. Major, daughter of John L. Major of Detroit, and sister of Laura A. Major of Metro, Romulus, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force Inventory management course at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

During the course, students were taught property accounting, customer support, stock control and equipment management for a base supply system. They also were taught to inventory supplies using electronic data processing machines. The graduates earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Major is scheduled to serve with the 363rd Supply Squadron at Shaw Air Force Base, S.C.

She is a 1980 graduate of Bishop Borgess High School, Redford.

While pursuing academic goals.

Ninety-six percent of Presidential Classroom students earn a grade point average of B or better and are leaders in school and community organizations.

During their one-week stay in Washington, high school juniors and seniors receive a sharp focus on government because the faculty is comprised of Washington's professional corps: Members of Congress, administration spokesmen, agency officials, diplomats, lobbyists, business and labor leaders, the military and the press.

The seminars present such diverse issues as arms control and disarmament, the gender gap, and American diplomatic policy. Speakers for the past year included: Ambassador Ernesto Rivas from El Salvador; Senator Robert Dole (R-Kansas); General John Vessey, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Ambassador Zhang Wenjin of the People's Republic of China; and media correspondents Ann Compton and Marvin Kalb.

Discussion groups afford students the opportunity to express their opinions, formulate new ideas and gain an understanding of the diverse concerns of students from across the nation.

The one-week sessions of Presidential Classroom run consecutively beginning Jan. 26 through March 16 and June 15-22 next year. For application forms, or further information, write A Presidential Classroom for Young Americans, 441 N. Lee St., Alexandria, Va. 22314.

Taste Extra!

New True Laser-Cut
"Flavor Chamber" Filter Shatters
(Low Tar = Low Taste) Theory!

Only True Has It. The New Laser-Cut "Flavor Chamber" Filter. A remarkable filtration discovery that delivers a flavor-rich tobacco experience at only 5 mg. tar.

Test True Against Your Higher Tar Brand. One taste and you'll discover low tar doesn't mean low taste anymore. In fact, New True's fuller, richer flavor delivers a taste satisfaction we believe challenges cigarettes containing twice as much tar.

Yet True is still only 5 mg. tar!

Longer Lasting Smoking Enjoyment. What smoker wouldn't like a cigarette that lasted longer? That's another New True bonus. True's quality tobacco blend is packed with extra tobacco so you can enjoy each cigarette longer. Noticeably longer.

New Breakthrough True. Why not test it against the only taste that counts? Yours!

It tastes too good to be True.

New True

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Regular: 4 mg. "tar", 0.5 mg. nicotine; Menthol: 5 mg. "tar", 0.5 mg. nicotine, av. per cigarette by FTC Method.
